

Dr. Nadeau, I hope you understand that Max quality of life and survival with good quality of life is not the result of our knowledge or any special website information. It is simply your devotional concern and steadfast effort to provide for his needs and do everything in your power to make him happy and healthy. You are a remarkable owner whose beloved dog has survived against all odds due to your patience, research and work ethic. Now how do you put that in a website? Cordially, Rick Goullaud
